

GO Barcelona December Newsletter

December 16, 2019

I hope your fall semester was great and that you're starting a restful, fun winter break! Finals are over and the holiday season is here! That means we are inching closer to your epic adventure abroad!

If you missed the November newsletter, take 10 minutes and review online here!

What's Important Now

- FLIGHTS - it's time to book! While you have downtime between now and the spring semester, we strongly suggest booking your flights. The group flight could be the perfect option for you!
- New classes available!
 - INT 290 Culture, Values & Global Citizenship
 - PHI 202 Intro to Ethics
 - Interested in switching to one of these classes? Submit the class change form in your portal before December 31st!

Why should you take the group flight?

- We'll take care of your international roundtrip booking. The only flights you'd book are your connections to New York-JFK and back home, or you can drive if you live nearby.

- Guaranteed spot with the group shuttle to the accommodations. You won't have to worry about arranging a taxi when you land!
- Meet other students before the program begins. Don't worry about traveling alone. The real adventure begins as soon as you get to the airport!

Ready to save your seat on the group flight?

Payment is submitted in your portal!

Early reservation deadline: December 31st

Planning your own flights?

- The flights section of your accepted student page includes recommendations for booking tickets independently.
- We strongly suggest locking in your flight this month - prices are below average right now!

As always, feel free to email me with questions, shoot me a text or schedule a call with me here.
